Ways To Improve

Writing 2101
Andrew Chater
2022

1. Use Western Libraries

not a schooly convil.

Response to "Comments on 'The Stress Factor of Social Media" https://www.pewresearch.org > ... > Platforms & Services Nahai, Foad Psychological Stress and Social Media Use - Pew Research ... Aesthetic surgery journal, 2018-09-14, Vol.38 (10), p.153-153 PEER-REVIEWED A OPEN ACCESS Jan 15, 2015 — For men, there is no relationship between psychological stress and frequent Download PDF [7] use of social media, mobile phones, or the internet more broadly. me professional. ☐ View Issue Contents 🔼 https://www.everydayhealth.com > united-states-of-stress Narcissistic adolescents' attention-seeking following social rejection: Links with social Is Social Media Busting or Boosting Your Stress? - Everyday ... media disclosure, problematic social media use, and smartphone stress Hawk, Skyler T; van den Eijnden, Regina J.J.M; van Lissa, Caspar J; ter Bogt, Tom F.M Jan 6, 2022 — "Social media may increase stress if individuals receive undesirable feedback," Computers in human behavior, 2019-03, Vol.92, p.65-75 Ohannessian says, "such as receiving negative comments from a ... 🛍 ... perspective to examine longitudinal associations from adolescent narcissism to youth's social media d problematic social media use... PEER-REVIEWED https://www.chestercountyhospital.org > news > march Download PDF 🗹 The Facebook Effect: How Is Social Media Impacting Your ... ☐ View Issue Contents [2] Mar 12, 2020 — The potential causes of social media-induced stress range from misinformation about current news to the "fear of missing out" (FOMO) on group ... COVID-19 Stress and Addictive Social Media Use (SMU): Mediating Role of Active Use and Social Media Flow https://www.mcleanhospital.org > essential > it-or-not-s... Zhao, Nan; Zhou, Guangyu Frontiers in psychiatry, 2021, Vol.12, p.635546-635546 Here's How Social Media Affects Your Mental Health - McLean ... ♥ 🛍 The present study aimed to understand the relationship between COVID-19 stress and addictive SMU b Jan 21, 2022 — Using social media can directly impact emotional wellness, physical, and mediating role of active use and social media flow (i.e... ) PEER-REVIEWED A OPEN ACCESS mental health. Here are the signs that you are affected. Download PDF 🗹 Ø Available Online →

formar & informacion.

2. Make Sure Citations Are Consistent

Aalbers, G., McNally, R. J., Heeren, A., de Wit, S., & Fried, E. I. (2019). Social Media and Depression Symptoms: A Network Perspective. Journal of Experimental Psychology. General, 148(8), 1454–1462. https://doi.org/10.1037/xge0000528

Radovic, A., Gmelin, T., Stein, B. D., & Miller, E. (2017). Depressed adolescents' positive and negative use of social media. Journal of Adolescence (London, England.), 55(1), 5–15. https://doi.org/10.1016/j.adolescence.2016.12.002

3. Include Sample Sizes

• Radovic et al.

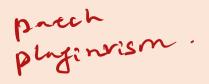

- - The authors study the usage of social media by adolescents suffering from depression and argue adolescents can use it positive or negatively. The subjects use social media to alleviate depression in some cases, such as watching entertaining content that distracts from depression or communicating with friends or family for support. More negatively, teens post about potentially dangerous behavior they engage in, compare themselves negatively to others, engage in cyberbullying or receive cyberbullying. The authors interviewed adolescents across the United States from 2014-2015 to examine the topic.

3. Include Sample Sizes

- Radovic et al.
 - The authors study the usage of social media by adolescents suffering from depression and argue adolescents can use it positive or negatively. The subjects use social media to alleviate depression in some cases, such as watching entertaining content that distracts from depression or communicating with friends or family for support. More negatively, teens post about potentially dangerous behavior they engage in, compare themselves negatively to others, engage in cyberbullying or receive cyberbullying. The authors interviewed 23 adolescents across the United States from 2014-2015 to examine the topic.

4. Give The Facts, Rather Than List

- Radovic et al.
 - The authors study the usage of social media by adolescents suffering from depression and argue adolescents can use it positive or negatively. The authors list ways that adolescents use social media positively. They then list ways that teens use social media negatively. They use data and facts to make their argument.
 - The authors study the usage of social media by adolescents suffering from depression and argue adolescents can use it positive or negatively. The subjects use social media to alleviate depression in some cases, such as watching entertaining content that distracts from depression or communicating with friends or family for support. More negatively, teens post about potentially dangerous behavior they engage in, compare themselves negatively to others, engage in cyberbullying or receive cyberbullying. The authors interviewed 23 adolescents across the United States from 2014-2015 to examine the topic.

5. Paraphrase Properly

- Original Text: Adolescents described both positive and negative use of social media. Positive use included searching for positive content (i.e. for entertainment, humor, content creation) or for social connection. Negative use included sharing risky behaviors, cyberbullying, and for making self-denigrating comparisons with others.
- Less-Than-Ideal Paraphrasing: Teens talked about both positive and negative use of social media. Using it positively included the search for positive content or finding social connection. Negatively using it can include risky behavior, cyberbullying and self-denigrating comparisons.

5. Paraphrase Properly

- Original Text: Adolescents described both positive and negative use of social media. Positive use included searching for positive content (i.e. for entertainment, humor, content creation) or for social connection. Negative use included sharing risky behaviors, cyberbullying, and for making self-denigrating comparisons with others.
- Better Paraphrasing: The subjects use social media to alleviate depression in some cases, such as watching entertaining content that distracts from depression or communicating with friends or family for support. More negatively, teens post about potentially dangerous behavior they engage in, compare themselves negatively to others, engage in cyberbullying or receive cyberbullying.

Grammar

Sentence fragment

such as.

• Social media has negative use Social comparison, cyberbullying and risky behavior.

Passive voice

This sendy Find.

- It was found that social media has negative use.
- · Capitalization of proper name!
 - Social Media has negative uses.
- The Use of this
 - This is a good article.

This article is good.

Ways To Improve

- Office hours
- Brescia writing centre

Average on first assignment = 7.91/10

Average on second assignment = 6.47/10

Average on third assignment = 6.76/10